Community welcomes pastor

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

After arriving in town approximately one month ago, Pastor Donald "Mike" McClellan of the Romulus Wesleyan Church said he already feels at home.

McClellan, who likes to be called Pastor Mike, came to the 137-year-old Wesleyan Church to replace Rev. Randy Swink. A native of Lexington, Michigan, McClellan recently completed his education in South Carolina. He remarked on how quickly he was made to feel welcome when he came to Romulus.

"We found the church a very loving group of people...and the community—the people we've met have been very friendly, open."

McClellan admitted he was initially nervous when invited to come to an urban area like Romulus after spending most of his life in rural, country communities.

"My wife and I were both raised on a farm," he said.

Student counts drop steadily

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

When Romulus school officials counted their students for the first time this school year, they discovered enrollment is continuing to decline.

The official fourth Friday count revealed a total of 4,745 students attending Romulus Community Schools, according to Assistant Superintendent Terrel LeCesne. This time last year, the total reached 4,854 students.

Breaking down the figures, LeCesne said 2,333 students attend elementary school, compared to 2,423 last fall. In the middle school, enrollment has dropped from 698 to 669, and the figures slid from 1,411 to 1,373 at the high school level.

The only category which saw an increase was adult education/alternative high school. The two programs were grouped together for a student total of 370, up a figure of 322 from last year.

The declining figures do not come as a surprise, LeCesne said. "The numbers are constantly changing. The last four years have seen a definite downward plunge...Last year was the most drastic," he said.

LeCesne attributes the dwindling enrollments to two major factors.

"Families in Romulus are growing up, and there are no more school-age students to pick up the slack," he said.

LeCesne added that Romulus has a high mobility rate. Families often move in and out of local apartments or housing facilities, causing student enrollment to fluctuate.

According to a recent study conducted for the district, the figures will probably level off but not in the near future.

Meanwhile, as an in-formula district Romulus suffers a $4,013 loss from the state for each student that leaves the district. LeCesne estimated that the most recent decline by 109 students will cost Romulus Community Schools approximately $433,000.

In an attempt to deal with this trend and the loss it creates, district officials last year laid off more than 80 teachers and permanently closed Hayti Elementary School. Plans for further cuts have not been announced.

Advertising invoice prompts council debate

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

Payment for a $300 newspaper advertisement supporting a church festival will not be made with tax funds following a unanimous vote of members of the Romulus City Council at the Sept. 25 meeting.

The invoice for the advertisement was included on a list of recent city expenses to be approved by council members at the regular meeting. The bill apparently referred to a full-page ad which appeared in The Romulus News Aug. 30. The advertisement displayed pictures of elected city officials and wished St. Aloysius Church success with the annual Labor Day Festival.

Mayor Pro Tem Mary Ann Banks questioned the expense, stating the ad was a political promotion and it would be wrong for taxpayers to fund it. She said standard practice would be to divide the cost among city officials. Council members agreed and unanimously voted not to approve payment with city funds.

Questions arose regarding authorization of the advertisement, however. Several council members explained that they had never been asked about the advertisement or the use of their photographs.

David Atkins, publisher of The Romulus News, was present during this discussion. Atkins, a city council candidate, accused the council members of nit-picking and wasting the city taxpayers' time. He claimed a similar ad ran last Christmas season without the approval of each council member.

"It seems like these council members never have anything to say unless it's election time," Atkins said one week later. "It's just a bunch of theatrics...We've never had a problem with it in the past."

City Clerk Linda Choate said the city has funded ads during the holiday season or special occasions. Usually, they would address the community from the city of Romulus. These ads have contained city officials' names and/or pictures, she said.

However, she added, it is not standard practice for the city to fund political ads. Choate suggested the size and elaborate nature of the ad in question may have pushed it beyond being a simple message from the city.

Mayor Beverly McAnally said she interpreted the advertisement as a greeting from the city. If only some elected officials appeared—instead of the entire elected body—it would be easier to define the display as a political ad, she said.

The mayor added that she does not remember if the suggestion for an ad wishing luck to St. Aloysius came to her because there would be nothing out of the ordinary about it. She would have assumed that ad would be paid for by city officials if it was political, McAnally explained.

After the ad did appear, an invoice for it was reportedly labeled as a legal publication, and it ended up in the clerk's office with invoices for official publications. Choate said the invoice did not include information indicating it was for an ad. She described the situation as a mistake that should have been caught sooner.

"I'm terribly sorry it managed to get as far as it did," she said.

Flag is stolen from memorial crash site

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

The memorial site for victims of the 1987 crash of Northwest Flight 255 is missing an important element.

Every year during the Aug. 16 anniversary of the air disaster, survivors of the victims have flown a flag on a hillside near the crash site.

This year, one week after the anniversary, the flag was stolen.

Most of the survivors are members of the support group, Flight 255/Their Spirit Lives On. In hopes of retrieving the flag, members have decided to offer a reward to whoever returns the flag or provides information leading to its return.

No questions would be asked, stressed one of the group founders, Betty Polec.

The flag is described as approximately 3-feet-by-5-feet. It was attached to a 10-foot-pole which is also missing. Pictured on the flag is a white dove outlined in blue. The background is also white. The dove has a green olive branch in its beak. A banner on the flag reads, "Flight 255/Their Spirit Lives On." The top of the flag reads "Flight 255," and the bottom reads "August 16, 1987." The flag also displays a red heart with the "255" logo.

Polec estimated the value of the flag at $300.

"It really means an awful lot to us. We don't want our loved ones forgotten," Polec said.

Polec, who lost a daughter and son-in-law in the 255 disaster, said she is tired of people who treat the support group like an inconvenience.

Romulus man is found in burning car

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

Police authorities have not ruled out foul play in the death of a Romulus man found in a burning car in Superior Township Friday afternoon.

Theodore Joseph Rucinski, 61, had last been seen in his son's Canton Township home before his body was discovered, said Michigan State Police Det. Sgt. William Ward.

When Superior Township firefighters responded to reports of a flame-engulfed car in a ditch on Cherry Hill Road between Stommel and Gale, they did not realize there was a man sitting behind the wheel until the fire was brought under control.

Because two holes could be seen in Rucinski's skull, police officials initially believed the man had been shot to death, and his car had been set on fire.

However, an autopsy conducted at University of Michigan Hospitals indicated Rucinski died from the fire and

New restaurant project is eyed

Rezoning to allow the construction of a Hardee's restaurant on the corner of Ecorse and Middlebelt roads was approved by city councilmembers Monday night.

Approval was based on a recommendation from the city planning commission. The site was originally zoned for light industrial development.

This is the second fast-food restaurant development proposal brought before city council this month. Also discussed was an Arby's restaurant which would be constructed on Middlebelt Road.

Traffic laws are adopted

Drivers in Romulus may notice some changes due to new traffic orders approved by Romulus city councilmembers Monday night.

Traffic on northbound McBride must now yield to east- and west-bound traffic on McBride. In addition, a yield sign will be installed for southbound traffic on Romaine at the intersection of Herman.

Speed limits of 35 mph have been established for Merriman and Wahrman roads between Pennsylvania and Eureka.

Drivers on Flynn Drive east of North Merriman Road will be required to slow to 25 mph.

Mayor appointed to committee

Mayor Beverly McNally was appointed earlier this month to serve on a newly formed committee of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments.

The Airport Technical Review Committee will serve as a guide to a regional airport study to be conducted by SEMCOG and an outside consultant. Committee members will discuss technical issues and work with the consultant. Their first meeting will be in early October.

Activities set for seniors

Early October will be a busy time at the Romulus Senior Center — several activities have been scheduled.

Tomorrow, the senior van will head to the Michigan State fairgrounds, in Detroit, for the Senior Harvest Festival.

A more elaborate evening of dining is planned for Oct. 10. Participants will be taken to a German restaurant in Hamburg, Michigan.

The following day, seniors will be taken to an aging seminar in Belleville.

In addition to these local activities, the senior center has set plans in motion for three vacation packages.

A three-day/two-night trip to Traverse City will begin Oct. 13. Participants will room at the Shanty Creek Resort, eat dinner on the Star of Charlevoix (among other local spots) and go on an aerial tram ride. Cost is $245 per person.

Other trips include a two-day trip to Simcoe, Ontario beginning Dec. 5 and a week-long Hawaiian vacation beginning Dec. 12. Payment for the Hawaii trip is due Oct. 20.

For more information about any of the senior events, call 942-6852.

Festival planners stage meeting

Members of the Romulus Festival Planning Committee have scheduled a community planning meeting for 7 p.m., Oct. 9 in the local recreation building.

Although all committee meetings are open to the public, this event is staged to take in criticism, suggestions and requests to join.

Refreshments will be served. For more information, call the recreation center at 942-6852.

50th anniversary

Current and former members of the Romulus Rotary Club gathered with their families Saturday evening to celebrate the 50th anniversary of their club. The Rotary club was formed by local doctor Elmer Goerke in 1939. Since that time the group has concentrated on providing community service, youth scholarships and international exchange programs. When the group formed 50 years ago, members used the meetings as a time to talk about their children. Now, members of the 39er's can brag about their grandchildren.

friends. Then we decided to organize," Zeffie said.

The 39er's, named for the year they formed, started with four. Membership has increased, and then settled down to seven.

Group activities have also evolved since they were first made "official." When they first organized, the members staged formal meetings once a week.

In addition, the group once collected funds to help a local child in need. They presented the young girl with a full outfit of clothing, including socks and an overcoat.

As members became older, meetings went from weekly to monthly occasions. Now, the members only get together to celebrate birthdays or holidays.

On Sept. 15, all seven 39er's met at the Pickett Suite Inn, in Romulus, for a weekend anniversary celebration.

Current members of the 39er's are: Olivia Dickins, president; Nettie Marion, secretary; Juanita Finley, treasurer; Clara Chapple, Etta Grant and Emma and Zeffie Bealum.

City studies drain improvement work

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

A special tax assessment area may be formed within Romulus to fund construction work on the Ecorse Creek/Smith Road drain.

The proposed assessment area comes one year after city council members determined improvements to the drain area are needed. The official council resolution requested a list be supplied of all property in the area that would be affected by the improvements along with a material and cost estimate.

Several weeks ago, the city community development department was presented with a cost estimate for the construction of the Smith Road drain for a 2,067 acre watershed area. The report also included an assessment district of 1,200 acres.

When discussing the proposal with city council members during a recent meeting, City Planner Sally Hodges said the drain would be necessary for development between Merriman and Wayne Roads between Ecorse and the Ecorse Creek. The proposed drain would span 4,400 feet and would carry the existing Ecorse Creek flow to Smith Road. From there, the drain would be enclosed 5,100 feet along Smith to the Ecorse and Freeman drains where a regional retention basin would be formed.

Cost estimates total $3.4 million for part of the project. Figures for later stages will come as they are needed.

Major property owners in the proposed assessment area include Llywyd Eccelstone, Metro World Centre developer, and hotel developer Wendell Flynn. During preliminary discussion, most property owners agreed to the assessment district concept, according to Hodges.

A public hearing to discuss the assessment district has been scheduled for Oct. 9 in city council chambers, city hall.

Ward said that a can which may have been used to carry gasoline was found in the wreckage of Rucinski's 1979 Oldsmobile. However, test results to determine if the can actually had contained gas have not been completed.

The gas tank of the car had not been ruptured, Ward added.

At this point, he said, police officials do not know if the death was accidental, a suicide or a homicide.

"We're still investigating that part of it," Ward said.

Rucinski had lived and worked at the Salvation Army in Romulus for the past 15 years.

Apparently, Rucinski left work between 10:30 and 11 a.m. Friday and went to his son's house in Canton to pick up his car. Rucinski had announced plans to head for a Meijer store in Canton, according to reports from his family, before leaving the house alone.

Now that he is settled in, McClellan wants to make the church as accessible to the community as possible.

"We want to reach out to community needs...to see what we can do as a church."

As much as he enjoys his work, McClellan said it is rarely easy.

The pastor explained that people often believe a Christian life means a dull existence.

'Drug checkpoints' debated in court

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

The future of "traffic checkpoints", initiated last week by Wayne County deputies to smoke out suspected drug users and dealers, will be determined by a Wayne County Circuit Court Judge.

The American Civil Liberties Union, along with Sen. William Faust (D-Westland) and former Inkster mayor Edward Bivens, Jr., has asked the court to determine the legality of Sheriff Robert Ficano's traffic checkpoints.

On Sept. 19, Wayne County deputies, in conjunction with local law enforcement officials, posted traffic checkpoints in areas of Inkster known for drug trafficking to allow deputies an opportunity to check motorists for driver's license and vehicle registration.

The ACLU, along with co-plaintiffs Bivens and Faust, asked the courts for a temporary restraining order and for a preliminary injunctive declaratory relief, arguing that the deputies actions were in violation of the Fourth and 14th Amendments to the United States Constitution and Article

I, Section 11 of the Michigan Constitution of 1963 — namely, violating the rights of motorists from unreasonable search and seizure.

Because Ficano has agreed to discontinue the program until a court decides the issue, the restraining order was not necessary, according to Mark R. Granzotto, ACLU attorney.

However, the lawsuit will be heard at 9:30 a.m. Oct. 23 in Circuit Court by Judge James Rashid.

Faust, in a written statement, said he is concerned that the sheriff's actions violated the U.S. and state constitutions.

"There is no doubt that drug abuse is the most serious problem and challenge we face in our society," Faust said. "However, our society faces a greater threat when we begin to make exceptions to our constitution."

According to Nancy Mouradian, of the sheriff's public relations department, deputies stopped 76 motorists and issued 44 tickets for offenses ranging from driving without a valid license, registration or insurance. There were also arrests for carrying a concealed weapon.

SCHOOL NEWS

Romulus teens prepare for homecoming finale

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

Wrapping up a week of dress-up contests and after-school sport competitions, homecoming will begin in earnest tomorrow with a spirit assembly, parade, and of course, the all important football game.

Already final touches are being placed on class floats for the parade, and students are wrapping up a week of competition for the spirit jug. Striving for points, students have worn college outfits, hats and the craziest outfits they could find.

After-school competitions included free throw and the football toss Monday along with volleyball and a lime roll Wednesday.

The ultimate in spirit competition comes tomorrow – spirit day – during the (what else?) spirit assembly. Serious competitors will be wearing school colors of maroon and white. Eighteen events will be staged: spirit yell, banana-eating contest, egg toss, pyramid, hippity hop, apple bob, jellybean race, limbo contest, tug-of-war, Hawaiian and dressy costume competition, football toss, two relay race competitions, caterpillar race, garbage pickup, whipped cream head cover and speed dress.

Finally, points will be awarded in the float competition. The theme this year is cartoon characters.

Float and spirit jug winners will be announced during the halftime ceremonies at the football game against Milan high school Friday night.

In addition, the homecoming king and queen will be crowned then. Students staged elections for the homecoming court Friday. Princes and princesses were selected for the under-classes, a pair for each grade. Candidates for the king and queen position were narrowed down to five by senior voters. The final choices will be based on votes from the entire student body – the election is tomorrow.

Amy Anderson, student government president, said participation in the homecoming election is stronger than ever this year. She estimated at least 41 people ran for queen.

Anderson added last week that she anticipated success for all of the homecoming events.

“It looks pretty good. There’s a lot of different possibilities for the floats.”

Memorable trip: Romulus student returns from Japan

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

Tameca Robertson still slips in a Japanese word here and there when she chats with her friends.

After spending two months in Japan as an exchange student, re-adjusting to life in Romulus takes a little time, she explains.

Robertson, a Romulus high school student, learned last spring that she was selected for the Youth For Understanding International Exchange. Her trip was sponsored by Mazda Motor Corporation.

The first step of Robertson's experience began June 25 in Seattle. She joined other exchange students in an orientation program. Her time there included a visit to a well-known hamburger spot, a last chance to eat traditional American food.

The actual orientation only consisted of two days, she said.

“In those two days they tried

Tameca Robertson

to cram everything they possibly could into your brain about Japan,” she said.

Very quickly, she said, the students there formed friendships.

“Needless to say I have many pen pals now.”

Robertson slept during most of her 11-hour flight to Tokyo, her overnight stop. She arrived June 30. It was not until she was on her second flight to Osaka, the second-largest city in Japan, that she began her first real case of nerves. Robertson was especially worried she would not be able to locate her host mother in the crowded airport.

However, Mom quickly found her. As Robertson looked back on her trip, she always referred to her Japanese parents as Mom and Dad. Robertson recalled when she saw her Mom in the airport she was so relieved she wanted to give her a huge hug. But that type of public affection is not customary in Japan.

“She held my hands and told me not to worry.”

Because Robertson's Japanese Mom teaches English and her Dad is a frequent traveler to the United States, communicating with them was easy. Her new brother and sister, both teenagers, also spoke a limited amount of English.

Robertson knew some basic Japanese syllabaries, the first step to learning the language.

One of the first things that impressed Robertson in Japan was the high cost of living. Her family lived in a basic two-story house, typical for most Japanese families in style and cost.

“They paid $700,000 for a house that wouldn't go for $100,000 in the U.S.,” she mused.

Robertson was also struck by the Japanese style of bathing. In a separate area from the main bathroom her home had a shower and tub. The tub was much deeper than it was wide. Tradition calls for a thorough cleansing in the shower followed by a long soak in 90-degree water. The bath water is regulated by electronic controls. Robertson described it as a whirlpool without the bubbles, but after a day in 90-degree weather a bath in the same temperature rarely appealed to her.

The hot weather this summer was especially trying during the regular tennis games she played with her host family. Apparently, tennis is quite popular among housewives in Japan. However, instead of a swig of Gatorade, most of the athletes downed a weak version of iced tea.

Because both of her host parents work, Robertson was allowed to go sightseeing on her own. She relied on elaborate train and bus systems and traveled from her home in Hirakata to nearby cities of Osaka and Kyoto. Robertson laughed at the image she presented with her Walkman radio and her camera.

“I looked very much the American tourist.”

Many of the stores she visited were underground. Many more businesses were devoted to electronic devices than clothing. Most items were two to four times higher in price than they would be in the U.S.

“It's unimaginable,” she said.

One of the highest prices was assigned to a true luxury in a country lacking surplus space – golf. Golfers are charged the equivalent of $200 per game, Robertson said.

One of the most difficult parts of her trip was a visit to Hiroshima sponsored by Mazda for all of the American exchange students. One section of town contains a once sturdy cement building torn apart by the atom bomb. It has been left in ruins as a reminder of the reality of nuclear war.

“You don't realize how much devastation was brought on Japan.”

Robertson remarked that one of the things that made her trip special was the fact that she was content spending time with her family or sitting around watching the Japanese soaps.

“I didn't have to be doing something all the time.”

And she will never forget the warmth her host family extended her, making her a member in a very short time.

At Oakwood, high-tech procedures combat heart problems.

Cardiac catheterization, angioplasty, and open heart surgery help diagnose and treat heart disease.

Q. Has the treatment of heart disease changed significantly in the past few years?

A. There has been tremendous progress in both the diagnosis and treatment of heart problems. In the past 10 years, death and disability due to heart disease has dropped 30 percent in the United States. Among the most important advances are the use of catheterization for evaluating the health of the heart, angioplasty for treatment of many blockages, and open heart surgery for the more serious blockages.

Q. What is heart catheterization?

A. It is a diagnostic test used to visualize the coronary arteries and the heart. It allows the cardiologist to see if there are blockages in the arteries. The doctor can also tell if the heart is normal size or enlarged, if the pumping action of the heart is normal, and if the valves between the chambers of the heart are working properly.

Q. Who undergoes a heart catheterization?

A. It is usually recommended for a person who is experiencing chest pains which are not relieved by medication. It is also used if the person has had a heart attack or if the doctor suspects significant heart disease.

Q. Where is the procedure performed?

A. It is performed in Oakwood Hospital's Cardiac Catheterization Unit. The person remains awake during the catheterization, and only a local anesthesia is used. After the procedure, the person rests and then may go home the same day.

Q. How does the test work?

A. During the catheterization, the person lies on a special table. A blood vessel in the groin is punctured with a needle by a heart specialist trained in this procedure. Through the needle a very thin tube called a catheter is inserted. It travels through the vessel to the heart. Dye then is injected through the catheter. The doctor watches the progress of the dye on an X-ray camera. Pictures are taken as the dye moves through the heart.

Q. Once the catheterization is done, what happens?

A. The information the test reveals is used to help the cardiologist make a decision about treatment. Alternatives such as by-pass surgery, medical therapy, and angioplasty may be better evaluated after a heart catheterization.

Q. You mention angioplasty. What is that?

A. It is a procedure in which a catheter with a balloon on the tip is inserted into the artery. At the site of a blockage, the balloon is inflated and the pressure flattens the blockage against the wall and allows the blood to flow freely.

Q. What causes a blockage?

A. Most blockages in the arteries are caused by cholesterol. It builds up plaque deposits on artery walls that may interfere with the flow of blood. The most common symptom of a blockage is chest pain.

Q. Where is angioplasty performed?

A. It is done in the Cardiac Catheterization Unit of Oakwood Hospital. There the person is monitored constantly by Oakwood's expert cardiac teams. The person usually stays in the hospital for only a couple of days.

Q. What happens after angioplasty?

A. Most people return to their normal routines fairly quickly, and they are usually free of chest pain.

Q. In cases where angioplasty is not recommended, what is the alternative?

A. By-pass surgery may be the preferred treatment if three arteries are blocked, or if there has been significant injury to the heart itself. Oakwood Hospital has renowned cardiac surgeons who have performed hundreds of open heart surgeries.

New law is designed to protect the elderly

By DANIEL CALABRESE
ANP Staff Writer

A proposed law in the Michigan House of Representatives would make it illegal for any nursing home to refuse admittance to a Medicaid recipient.

The legislation, proposed by state Rep. Perry Bullard (D-Ann Arbor), would require that nursing homes establish only one waiting list for potential residents, and that they not require applicants to supply an "on-hand" cash reserve.

Bullard attempted to pass similar legislation in a previous session of the legislature, but could not garner enough support to pass the measure.

The Bullard bill has gained the support of Citizens for Better Care, a Detroit-based group that serves as an advocate for nursing-home residents.

Susan Rourke, executive director of CBC, said many nursing home residents have no choice.

"Nursing care is so expensive on a month-to-month basis, that Medicaid payments supplement social security," Rourke said.

Many nursing homes will resist the bill, Rourke said, because they make profits through patients who pay privately.

Many nursing home administrators, she said, pander to "pet private-pay patients," and ignore others. Bullard's bill is a step in the right direction, she said, because the current situation requires support for Medicaid recipients.

"The nursing home industry is taking people's money, and making them into poor people, and then saying they are not acceptable," Rourke said.

Sally Levay, public relations consultant for Westland Convalescent Center, said she believes nursing homes should accept Medicaid recipients.

But she added that nursing homes are in business to make profits, just like hospitals, and that the state has to do its part by properly supplying Medicaid reimbursements.

"Medicaid has to start reimbursing so nursing homes can stay in business," Levay said. "They're not even covering cost for Medicaid patients in nursing homes. They're in business to make a profit, and you cannot do that by not at least recovering your costs."

Local parks net state grants

By DANIEL CALABRESE
ANP Staff Writer

Parks in Westland and Huron Township are among the beneficiaries of recreation grants from the Michigan Department of Natural Resources.

A total of $53,000 was awarded to the city for Phase IV of Corrado Park development.

Willow Metro Park, located in Huron Township south of New Boston, will receive $225,000 in improvements.

The grants are part of a $32-million collection of recreation grants awarded for state and local park and recreation area improvements.

The effort is financed through "Project Michigan's Future," an $800 million bond proposal that was approved in November by state voters.

According to a spokeswoman for state Rep. James Kosteva (D-Canton Township), applications are also pending for grants to Canton and Romulus.

The Romulus grant is expected to be approved, she said. The Canton grant has been placed in a separate category of grants, but is expected to receive priority under that category.

Local man celebrates more than century of life

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

Father to 10, grandfather to more than 90, church deacon and almost 101 years old - Tom Corley says he owes it all to God.

The Inkster resident will celebrate one century plus one year of living. An active man, Corley attends weekly church sessions, Bible class and church meetings. He has been deacon to Christ Temple Church, in Westland, since 1948. Living with his daughter, he is basically self-sufficient and does not intend to slow down.

"I don't give myself credit. I give it to the Lord. He's the one. You've got to have faith to make it," Corley said.

Rugged and energetic, Corley's appearance does not betray his age. It is his vivid stories which tell his age.

Corley recalls coming to Detroit from South Carolina in the late 1920s, looking for a better life for his wife and children. For years he worked in Michigan from July to December and returned South to work on his farm during the winter and spring.

"Detroit was really beautiful in that day," he said.

Corley was especially impressed with the cable cars he found downtown. A ride cost 25 cents.

One of his first jobs was on the assembly crew for the Belle Isle bridge. Corley earned $2.70 an hour, which was considered good pay in those days.

A later job for Packard Motors was not as lucrative, it paid 55 cents an hour. After a year, Corley realized he could not feed his 10 children on that salary and took a better job at Ford Motor Co.

By this time, the Ford assembly line did not especially impress Corley.

"It wasn't so amazing to me. I had already bought two new Fords in the South," he boasted.

Incidentally, a nice Model T cost approximately $500 in those days, Corley said. After 10 years in Detroit, Corley moved his family to Inkster. His memories of Inkster of the 1930s always include one thing - mud.

"You couldn't get up Henry Ruff at all it was so bad," he remembered.

Continuing his job in Detroit, Corley returned to farming as a second job. The farm was complete with two cows, two goats and nearly 100 hogs.

"I worked all day and fed chickens and hogs all night," he said with a grin.

During those years, Corley found little time for leisure. As a grandfather, he enjoyed taking the children on hay rides all the way into Belleville.

Corley retired in 1956; he has been dependent on Social Security ever since. Although he served in the Army in 1917, his discharge papers were destroyed in an accident. Thus, Corley has been unable to receive any pension or benefits as a veteran.

However, Corley finds little to complain about. He remains married to his second wife of 33 years and recently traveled to Washington D.C. for a family reunion. When he turned 100 last year, the celebration drew 265 people, and Corley received honors from the governor and president.

"The Lord has blessed me," he said.

Harvest: Community garden yeilds food and friends

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

Surrounded by an area of industrial plants, car dealerships and motels, are acres of carrots, peppers, tomatoes, beets and squash—the largest garden in the world.

The Community Garden, noted in the Guinness Book of World Records, grown on Wayne County land within the boundaries of Westland. On the extensive site are 496 lots, 50-square-feet each. Through the Wayne County Office on Aging, all of the garden lots are available for use by county residents.

The program started 14 years ago as a solution to idle county land, according to Les Kanack, who manages the garden program and a greenhouse on the site. Kanack is also president of the Senior Citizen Gardening and Greenhouse Club.

In a way, the garden also became an answer for idle seniors. Many have become quite devoted to their plots and the friends they have made during their time there, Kanack said.

"We have people here on canes. We have people on crutches. It's just wonderful," Kanack said.

One elderly woman told Kanack once that she relies heavily on the vegetables she grows for food in the winter. She freezes most of her harvest yield.

Most of the seniors visit the greenhouse even during the winter.

"They don't have a garden, but they're down here," Kanack said.

Also a gardening fan, Kanack grew peppers and tomatoes in the garden for nine years. He lost both of his legs this summer and could not take on a plot, but he does come in every day to supervise greenhouse workers. He quickly pointed out he has no intentions of leaving the garden.

"God willing, I will be there next year to garden again. It is beautiful to see all of those people out there."

During a normal season, it is not unusual for 45,000 tomato plants, along with 20,000 peppers, to be growing in the garden, Kanack added.

Even though a festival harvest was recently staged at the garden, work at the site will continue year round. In the greenhouse, dating back to 1876, flowers and plants are grown and sold to the public.

"Everything you can think of in the line of flowers," Kanack boasted.

In addition, poinsettias are grown for the Christmas season, and lilies are then planted for Easter. After that, spring planting begins again.

Along with the actual gardeners, the garden and greenhouse employs members of the General Motors job bank, volunteers and a regular staff.

PLAY THE NUMBERS GAME AND WIN

By Clyde Wu, M.D.

Understanding what certain numbers mean may reduce your chances of having a heart attack. Blood pressure, cholesterol, and weight numbers affect the health of your heart. If you take action and lower the numbers, you lower your risk.

BLOOD PRESSURE NUMBERS

The pumping of blood, by the heart, against the walls of blood vessels creates blood pressure. It is one indication of how hard and how effectively your heart is working.

Blood pressure is measured with two numbers. The first number, called systolic pressure, is a measurement of pressure when the left ventricle of the heart contracts. The second number is called diastolic pressure. It measures pressure when the heart relaxes between beats.

CHOLESTEROL 200 OR LESS

Cholesterol level reflects the fats in your blood. The National Heart Institute recommends that adults should have a cholesterol level of 200 or less. That means no more than 200 mg. of cholesterol per cubic centimeter of blood.

High cholesterol causes plaque deposits in the arteries, interfering with and in some cases blocking the flow of blood to the heart.

You can lower your cholesterol level by eating less fatty foods. Use low-fat dairy products and mono-unsaturated fats such as olive and peanut oil.

Other numbers also affect your heart disease risk. Keep your body weight appropriate to your age, sex, and height. And keep your smoking rate at zero.

Find out what your numbers are by having a check up with your doctor. Blood pressure and cholesterol tests are also available at the Oakwood Health Information Center in Fairlane Town Center. Call 593-4660 for more information.

Proposal tackles flag-burning issue

By DANIEL CALABRESE
ANP Staff Writer

A pair of bills in the Michigan House of Representatives propose to make flag-burning a crime.

State Reps. Lynn Owen (D-Maybee) and Terry London (R-Port Huron) have proposed separate legislation that would outlaw the burning of the American flag.

The bill sponsored by Owen, which was introduced to the legislature in June, would establish penalties for desecration of the U.S. flag.

But the London proposal goes even further, calling for an amendment to the U.S. Constitution that would make it a felony to burn either the national flag or a state flag.

The U.S. Supreme Court ruled in June that state laws prohibiting flag burning are unconstitutional, a move that would require a constitutional amendment to restore such prohibitions.

In order for a constitutional convention to be called, for the purpose of enacting an amendment, 36 state legislatures would have to call for the convention.

London said the language of his bill is the same that was proposed by President George Bush, shortly after the Supreme Court ruling.

More than 20 House members joined to co-sponsor London's bill, including Owen, Rep. Lyn Bankes (R-Livonia).

But while Owen has expressed confidence that he will obtain support for his bill, London said he has encountered resistance from House Democrats.

COUNTY OF WAYNE COMBINED NOTIFICATION FOR: NOTICE OF FINDING OF NO SIGNIFICANT IMPACT ON THE ENVIRONMENT AND NOTICE OF INTENT TO REQUEST RELEASE OF FUNDS

County of Wayne, 600 Randolph Street, Detroit, Michigan 48226

TO ALL INTERESTED AGENCIES, GROUPS AND PERSONS: On or about October 23, 1989, the above-named County will request the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development to release federal funds under Title I of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974 (PL 93-383) for the following project accordingly:

1. Project: Romulus Historic Park

Location: Northwest Corner of Bibbins and Hunt Avenues

Purpose: To develop and improve park site.

Cost: CDBG funds of $50,000 from program year 1988; County Contract 88-24-NS-12(e).

2. It has been determined that such request for release of funds will not constitute an action significantly affecting the quality of the human environment and, accordingly, the County of Wayne has decided not to prepare an Environmental Impact Statement under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (PL 91-190). The reasons for such decision not to prepare such a Statement are as follows:

No significant impact was found as part of the environmental assessment.

An Environmental Review Record respecting the above project has been made by the County of Wayne which documents the environmental review of the project and more fully sets forth the reasons why such Statement is not required. This Environmental Review Record is on file at the above address and is available for public examination and copying, upon request, at the office of Community Development Director, 11111 Wayne Road, Romulus, Michigan 48174, between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday. No further environmental review of such project is proposed to be conducted, prior to the request for release of federal funds.

All interested agencies, groups and persons disagreeing with this decision are invited to submit written comments for consideration by the County of Wayne to the office of the undersigned. Such written comments should be received at L-13 Wayne County Building, 600 Randolph, Detroit, Michigan 48226 on or before October 20, 1989. All such comments so received will be considered and the County will not request the release of federal funds or take administrative action on the project prior to the date specified on the preceding sentence.

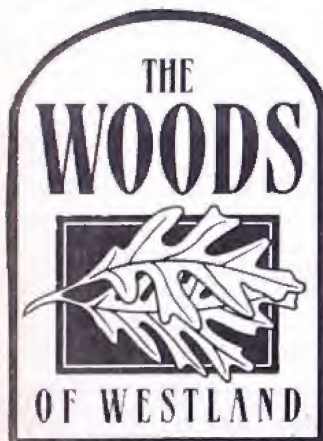

3. Certification: The County of Wayne will undertake the project described above with Block Grant funds from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) under Title I of the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1974. The County of Wayne is certifying to HUD that the County of Wayne and Executive Edward H. McNamara, in his capacity as County Executive, consent to accept the jurisdiction of the federal courts if an action is brought to enforce responsibilities in relation to environmental reviews, decision-making, and action and that these responsibilities have been satisfied. The legal effect of the certification is that upon its approval, the County of Wayne may use the Block Grant funds, and HUD will have satisfied its responsibilities under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969. HUD will accept an objection to its approval of the release of funds and acceptance of the certification only if it is on one of the following bases:

- That the certification was not in fact executed by the Chief Executive Officer of the applicant; or
- That the applicant's environmental review record for the project indicates omission of a required decision, finding or step applicable to the project in the environmental review process.

Objections must be prepared and submitted in accordance with the required procedure (24 CFR Part 58) and may be addressed to HUD at: McNamara Building - 17th Floor, 477 Michigan Avenue, Detroit, Michigan 48226. Objections to the release of funds on the basis other than those stated above will not be considered by HUD. No objection received after November 7, 1989 will be considered by HUD.

A special goodbye to a special man

Bob Card is a man who will be missed. He will be missed by those who knew him personally and he will be missed by a great number of people who may never even have known his name.

Bob Card was one of those rare individuals who performed good deeds anonymously and never expected or sought to be recognized for those efforts. The stories about the good deeds Bob did in the community, many without ever revealing beneficence, are legion. Bob Card was the man who sent hot chocolate to the workers when a huge gas main ruptured on Michigan Avenue near one of his three McDonald's restaurants. Bob Card is the man who donated hamburger buns, napkins and orange soda to more local groups than can be counted. Bob is the man who brought Ronald McDonald to the area and donated proceeds to the Ronald McDonald house. He contributed something to nearly every civic group and could be counted on for any fund raising effort in the community.

Bob Card was the man most civic groups in the area knew could be counted on for a contribution, advice or help in organizing a charitable event. He could also be counted on to tell anyone who didn't "do it his way" exactly what he thought of their mistakes.

Bob Card died Sunday at the age of 43 of brain cancer. We won't see another like him for a very long time.

Just who makes the decisions?

Who decides how you spend your money?

And, how would you react if your hard-earned cash was spent for you by unknown entities who never asked your opinion on the expense, forget asking your approval?

Most individuals would be justifiably angry and while members of the Romulus City Council have a right to that anger, they have so far reacted to the problem with a calm dignity and resignation which seems far too telling. Perhaps the problem is in finding the person at whom to direct their wrath.

During August, an advertisement was published in a local tabloid newspaper owned by a candidate for election to the Romulus council. The advertisement pictured the present council members and, in print, offered their support for a local Catholic church festival.

While that certainly sounds like a community-spirited and wholesome action, it appears that the authorization for the expense remains a mystery. When the invoice for the $300 advertisement was somehow directed to the city clerk and labeled as a legal publication, she included it on a list of bills for approval by the council members last week. Unfortunately, many members of the council were completely unaware of such an expense, and became even more painfully unaware of the situation when Mayor Pro tem Mary Ann Banks suggested that this was not the burden of the taxpayers and that this type of ad was the responsibility of the individuals.

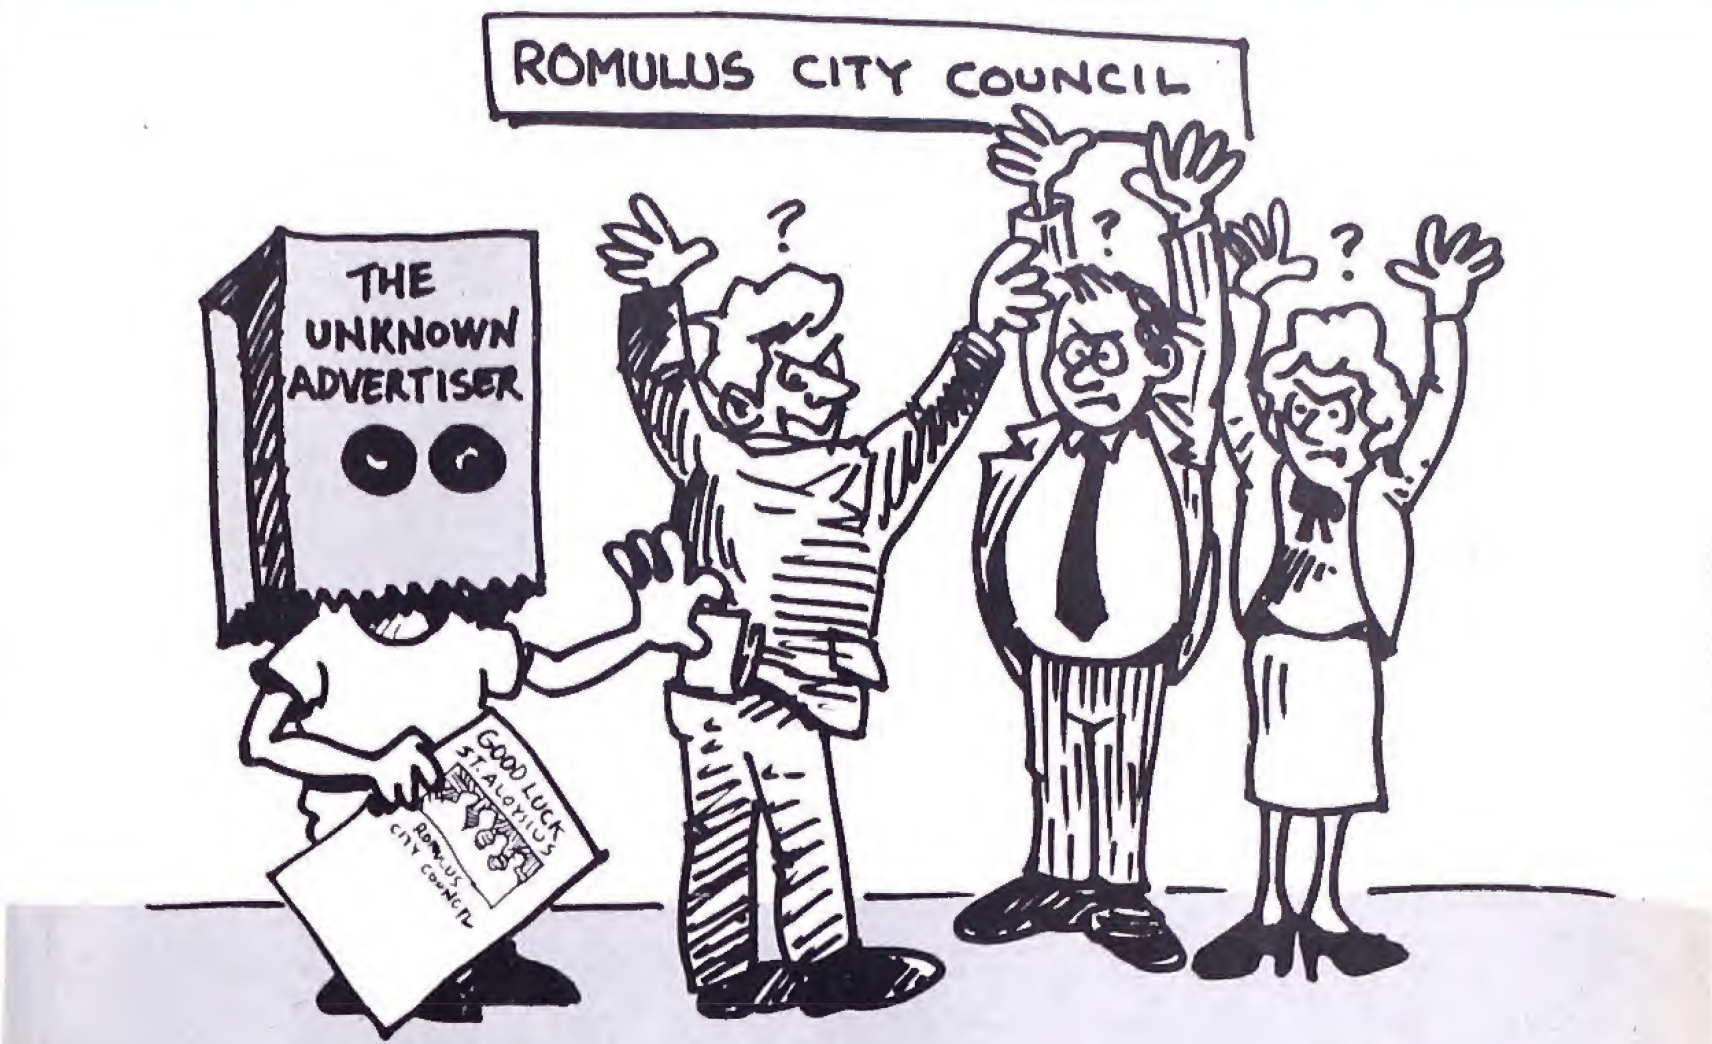

The council members voted immediately and unanimously to fund this expense from their personal finances. Mrs. Banks was unquestionably correct in her assessment of the advertisement and the proper funding for it. The council members acted with responsibility and alacrity in assuming the payment for it. The question still remains, however, who purchased the ad in their name?

If this bill hadn't gotten on the city clerk's list, then how would it have been paid? That's a question members of the council might justifiably ask. They might also ask how many other bills of this type have been paid and by whose authority. Someone spent their money, this time. Has the taxpayers' money been spent in the same fashion?

Members of the Romulus City Council have every right to these questions and to the answers. They have every right to refuse payment of this bill. They won't do that, obviously. We hope they will, however, ask the questions.

These individuals have every right to thwart this type of unethical and immoral treatment. These are good and honest people. They attempt to serve their community with all their abilities and their very best judgment. They take time from their jobs, their families and their own lives to provide some leadership and make some change for the betterment of their community, as each was elected by the people to do.

It shouldn't cost them their paychecks, too.

Airport noise is loud issue

I was surprised to read in your paper that Wayne Mayor Patrick Norton and some city councilmembers think that noise and a chance of airplane crashes are not monumental issues!

If they resided in the Sue-Win Subdivision, near Van Born and Merriman roads, they would realize that, during the years, airline traffic is becoming worse. Sometimes, it is so loud that you have to quit talking, because you can't hear.

It seems that, at night and on cloudy or foggy days, the planes are going to come through the house. Do you think a potential buyers of one of these houses would buy it if he or she was present when the planes come over?

At certain hours, they come over constantly.

Drug war needs lots of action

I have been reading about drug houses in our city and that the city has no (police) manpower.

If we can't get the police we need in our city, we should merge our city officers into the Wayne County Sheriff's Department and with other cities.

Our police department is just too small to handle the drug problems we have in our city. How many deaths is it going to take before we do something?

This has gone on for far too many years. Talking is not helping. Let's start doing something.

LETTERS

Tax hike was already made

I see (state Rep.) William Keith's (D-Garden City) face in your paper. He undoubtedly is using tax money to push Proposals A and B to the state Constitution.

All you people out there don't believe it. This spring, they raised the evaluation on property. That will raise taxes.

If a sales tax is passed, they will lower property taxes. Taxes will be just the same as before the evaluation, and that was too high.

Giving the money to the schools is another laugh. I understand that Michigan does not have budgets but that all money goes into a general fund, and they dole it out anyway they want. So where does the money from the lottery go? It was supposed to go to the schools. Does it?

I see some of our taxes is going to widen roads, roads that do not need widening. Just before the election, it looks 'fishy.' Beware of false prophets before elections. Many want to retain their kingdom or get their pet ideas through.

Incidentally, I am for limiting all politicians to three terms in office.

Modern literature needs a new look

Today, I learned that I am not the only parent who is concerned about the excessive amount of time and attention expended on death and dying in our kids' school curriculum, text books and even kids' reading storybooks.

I was aghast when I had my granddaughter read to me from her first-grade book. It wasn't entertaining. It was depressing - even frightening.

The educator's defense is that all children need to be taught coping skills for separation and tragedies in their lives. But this is ridiculous.

This inordinate preoccupation with this subject seems like a concentrated effort to desensitize the next generation, laying the groundwork to prepare for the active euthanasia movement and its upcoming legislation.

Parents can learn much from reading kids' textbooks. We are not at all pleased with the message.

Behind the guide of being "value neutral," some very definite behavior patterns are being sanctioned and promoted, through reading materials and videos. We can't afford parental apathy any longer.

We need involvement.

Fed up with A.C.L.U.

I'm fed up with the A.C.L.U. and everyone who wants to have their cake and eat it, too. We all support the drug war as long as it doesn't inconvenience us. Let Sheriff (Robert) Ficano take some action and we scream "unconstitutional." When the Patriots wrote the Constitution were their children succumbing to drugs? Were their neighbors dealing crack?

Desperate times call for desperate action. Perhaps the A.C.L.U. feels the infringement of rights would be less if we wait for all drug dealers to come forward.

Are we in a drug "game" with rules of play? No - it's a war and war is hell.

If "Ficano's good motives don't make unconstitutional actions right," then perhaps we must re-evaluate the Constitution. How unconstitutional is drug dealing and its after effects, anyway?

Yes. Because teens feel your driver's license is your ticket to freedom. When you take your driver's license away, you take away everything.

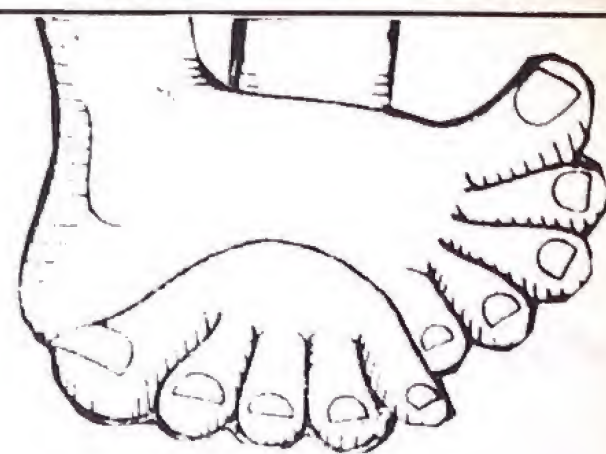

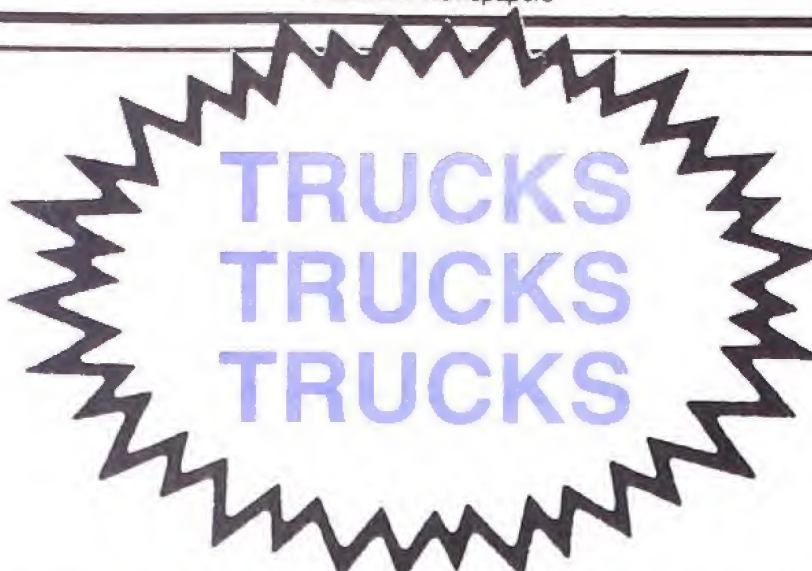

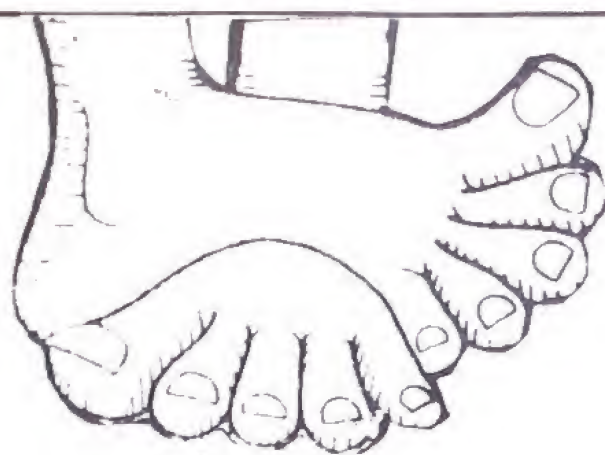

Yes. I think they shouldn't be drinking and driving or be under the influence of drugs.

No. You should lose your driver's license only for driving infractions.

Yes. I think so. Because then it restricts them from their mobility, so they can't get around and do the things they do.

Yes. I think anything that will help, because we don't want our kids getting hurt. A driver's license is important, so I think they would listen.

No. Because they'll still do it. They'll still drive, drink or do drugs without their licenses.

Bless this cake, it is a challenge

just desserts

sue willett

An old recipe can be like an old friend...or an old enemy. And, based solely on the principle that misery loves company, some of these more challenging recipes deserve to be shared with others willing to subject themselves to near torture to demonstrate their level of culinary expertise.

In short, this one is a real challenge. Not because the cake is difficult to make, but because the translation of the ingredients takes a real theologian, or the patience of a saint. Once translated, which many have found worth the time, this will produce a rich, moist tube cake which begs for a cream cheese icing. It is worth the trouble, but just barely.

The real philosophical dilemma here was whether or not to offer the translated directions, or enjoy the illusion of cooks with Bibles in hand attempting to decipher the list of ingredients. Obviously, the darker side won out, and the translation will be left to those who are up to the task of the challenge.

It is a firm conviction of mine that most good cooks are rather intelligent people, so this may not be as much of a challenge as anticipated. Nonetheless, it is something different, and offering the recipe (untranslated, of course) to others is always enjoyable, especially after the cake has prompted such a request.

OK, so I'm clearly a person with a mean streak, but if I spent the time huddled over my old Bible figuring this out...well, anybody else who wants to make the cake can do the same. This is especially fun to take for church or school bake sales, including the untranslated recipe to torture others who lust after the wonderful spicy texture and flavor of the cake. Actually, there are many other recipes for this type of cake which are every bit as delicious, and some better, but this is fun, which makes it more than worth the time.

Scripture cake

1/2 cup Judges 5:25, last clause
2 cups Jeremiah 6:20
2 tablespoons I Samuel 14:25
6 Jeremiah 17:11
1 1/2 cups I Kings 4:22
2 teaspoons Amos 4:5
II Chronicles 9:9, to taste
Pinch of Leviticus 2:13
1/2 cup Judges 4:19, last clause
2 cups Nahum 3:12
2 cups Numbers 17:8
2 cups I Samuel 30:12

Whip the Judges 5:25, Jeremiah 6:20 and Samuel 14:25 until light. Beat the 6 Jeremiah 17:11 yolks and add. Add Kings, Amos, Chronicles and Leviticus alternately with Judges 4:19. Fold in Nahum, Numbers and Samuel 30:12, then add the 6 Jeremiah 17:11 whites, beaten stiff. Bake for two hours in a 10-inch tube pan, well greased, and lined with greased brown paper, at 300 degrees.

Cream cheese frosting

1 8-ounce package cream cheese
1 tablespoon milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
Dash salt
5 1/2 cups sifted confectioner's sugar

Blend together softened cream cheese, milk, vanilla and salt. Add sugar, one cup at a time, mixing well after each addition.

Sweet treats from June

Making candies, and decorative cakes at home

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

Sitting next to delicately crafted lilies are several brontosaurus craning their necks. One level up is a bride and groom staring at another couple across the room.

June's Cake Decorating Supplies and Novelties, in Wayne, is crowded with such displays, many of which are edible.

June Bohan has owned the store four years but has been a skilled cake decorator and candy maker for more than 20 years. For her, working with customers is even more rewarding than the actual decorating.

"My favorite thing is working with the kids who are getting married," she said.

Also fun for Bohan is passing her skills along. She offers regular classes on the basics of candy-making and cake-decorating. Most students, she said, cannot believe they will master these skills in a three-week period. Bohan loves proving them wrong.

Despite the rewards, the work can be tiring. Bohan said she will never quite recover from graduation time last spring when she made 1,200 candy flowers.

"I couldn't move my fingers for a week," she laughed.

Graduation season is the busiest time of year for people in Bohan's business.

"It's a hard business. After graduation there's weddings, then nothing until Christmas. Then you wait for Easter."

Top candy requests now are Batman figures and emblems for a business, organization or family. For example, a future bride may bring in a personalized napkin for her reception and Bohan will craft candy for the wedding cake to match it.

Bohan offered some basic guidelines for cake decorating. When working with chocolate, for example, the cook must not let it become too hot. Usually, the chocolate is melted over a double boiler. When the water in the bottom section becomes warm, Bohan suggests turning the heat as low as possible. That creates a smooth consistency in the chocolate.

One of the easiest candies to make are chocolate-covered cherries, at least for Bohan.

"You can whip those things out in five minutes once you learn how," she said.

For the other candy, such as the flowers, a little more practice is necessary. Bohan uses a decorator frosting tip and a round plastic base. While spinning the base, she squeezes out frosting to create petals.

Below, are some of Bohan's favorite recipes for candy and cake. Many of them are simple, and yet are sure to impress friends and family.

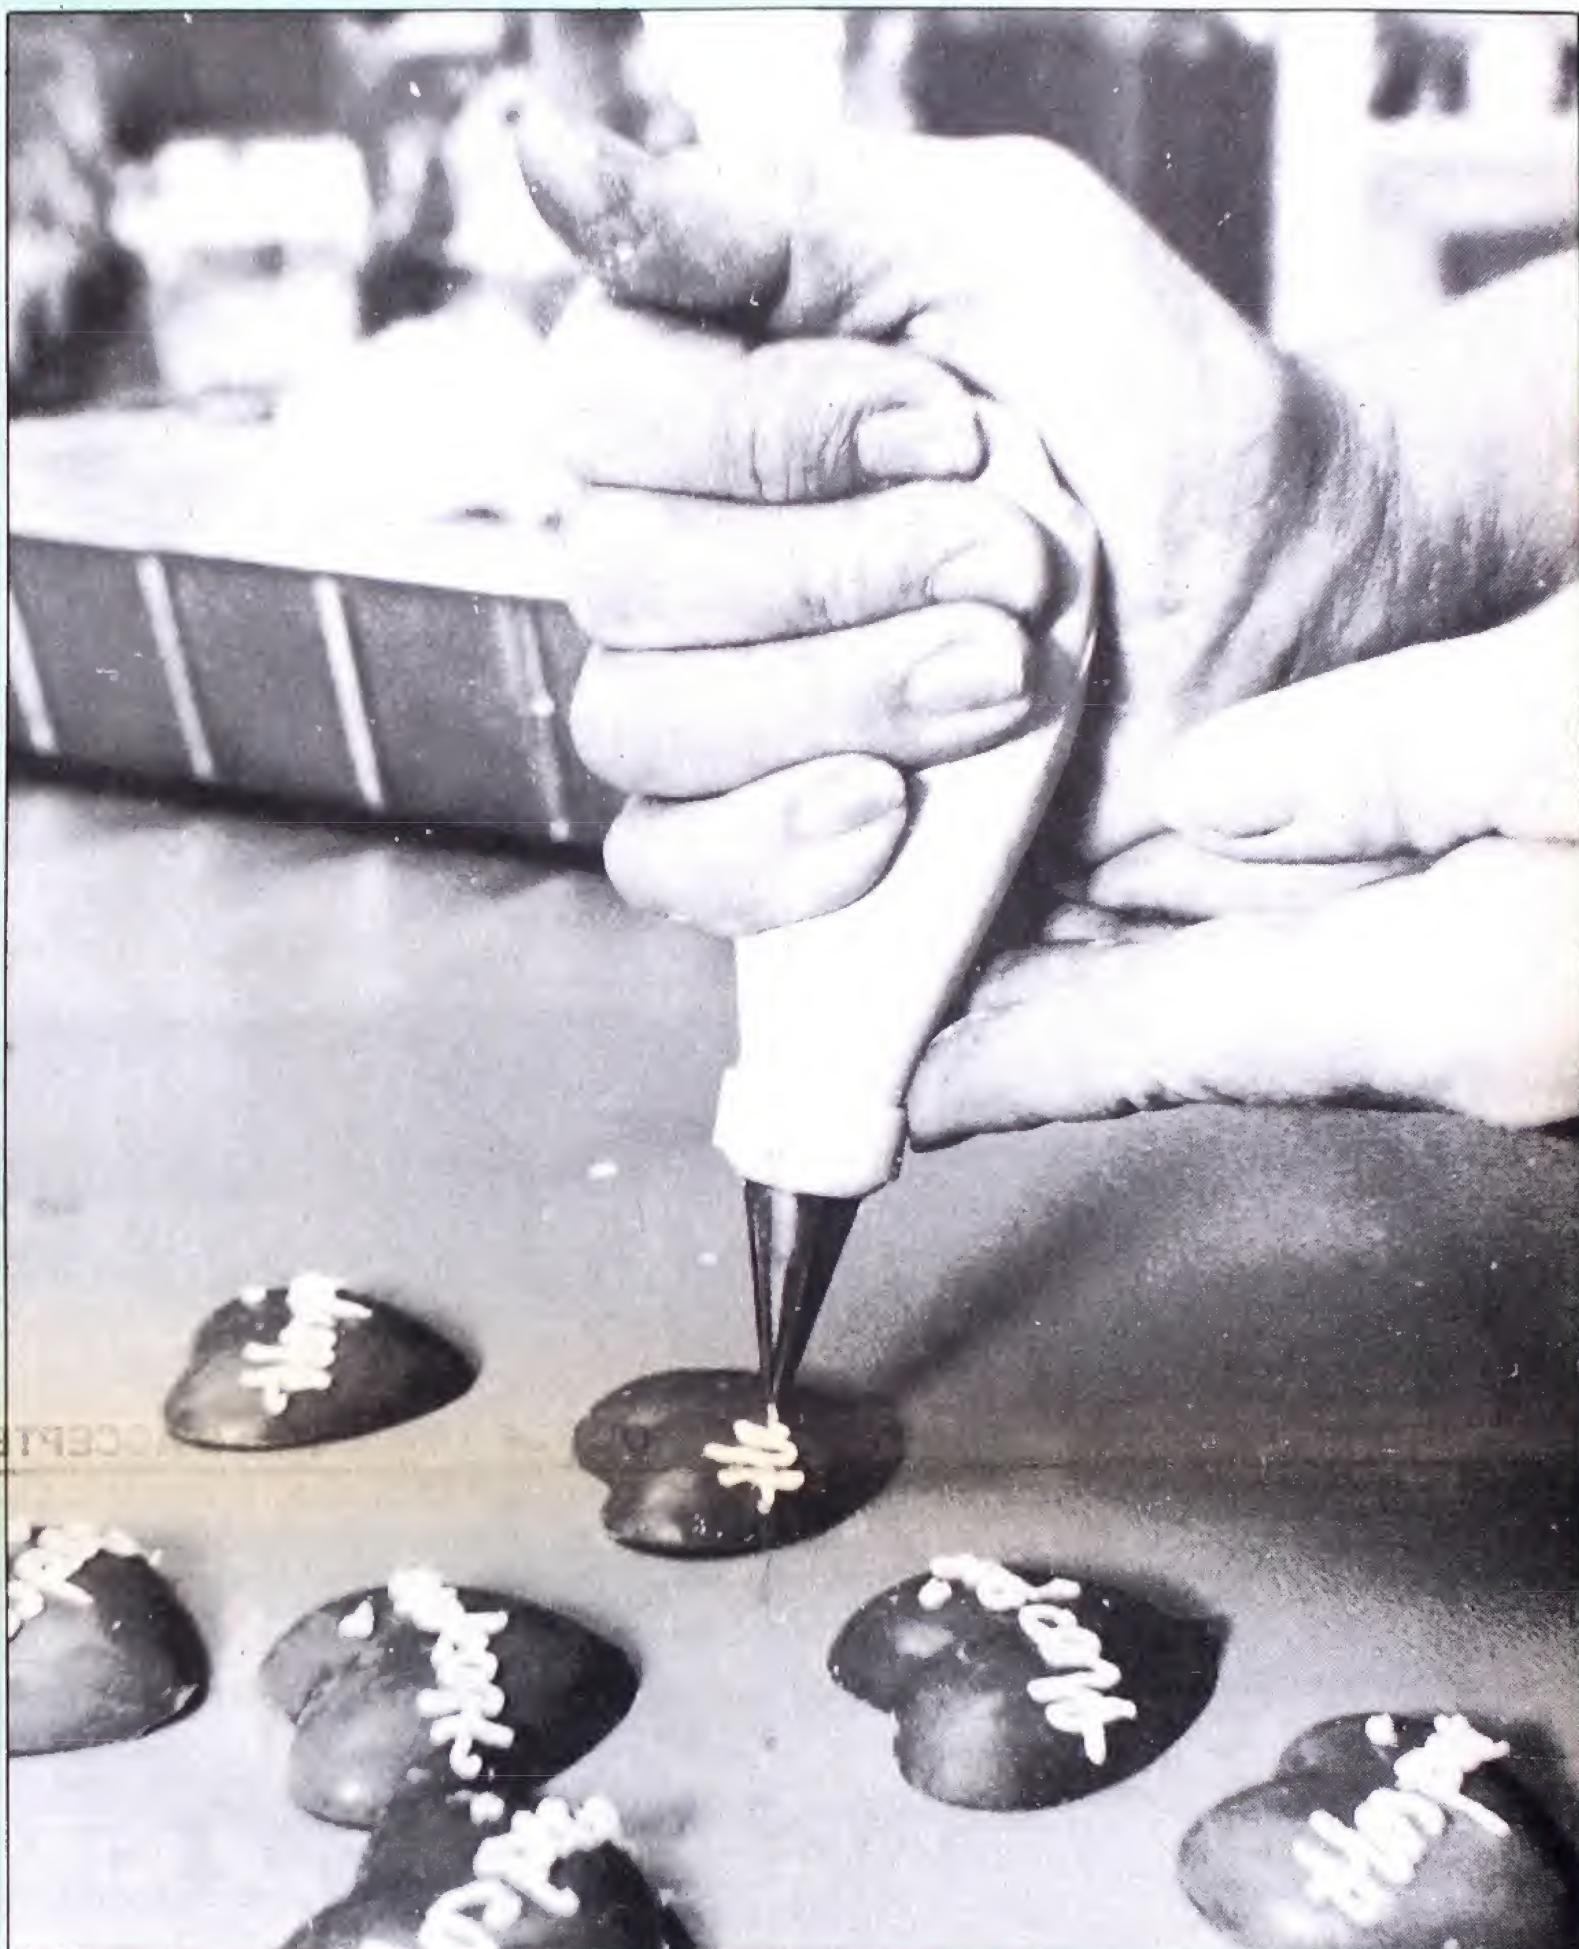

Silky way bars

1 pound milk chocolate coating
3 tablespoons water
1 1/4 cups marshmallow cream
1/4 pound caramel
1/2 pound any chocolate-flavored compound coating, melted

Melt 1 pound milk chocolate coating in double boiler over hot water. Add water and marshmallow cream; blend well. Cool until mixture can be easily handled. Melt caramel in double boiler over hot water and cool. Line candy bar molds with 1/2 pound melted chocolate-flavored coating compound, reserving small amounts for sealing. Chill until firm, but set so chocolate does not crack. When firm, spoon a thin layer of cooled caramel in bottom of shell. Pat chocolate/marshmallow filling on top of caramel to within 1/16 of an inch of the top. Seal with reserved melted chocolate. Chill. Pop out when set.

Red velvet torte

1/2 cup margarine
1 tablespoon sugar
2 tablespoons red food coloring
2 eggs
1/2 cup chocolate wafers
1 1/4 cups water
1 tablespoon salt
1 tablespoon soda
1 tablespoon vinegar
1 tablespoon vanilla

A frosting bag and cake-decorating tips can be used to decorate all sorts of candies, as well as cakes. ANP photo by Werner Stocum/staff photographer

2 1/2 cups flour Raspberry, cherry or strawberry pastry filling

Cream margarine and sugar. Add red food coloring and eggs. Beat well. Add melted chocolate wafers. Beat well. Alternating, mix in flour, salt and water slowly to creamed mixture. Mix together soda, vanilla and vinegar. Add to batter. Grease and flour 2, 8-inch round cake pans and bake at 350 degrees for 45 to 55 minutes. Cool. Spread fruit filling between cake layers.

Sweetie pies

For Shells:
1/2 cup soft butter
1/3 cup cream cheese
1 tablespoon sugar
1 1/4 cups flour
For filling
1 egg, beaten
1 tablespoon melted butter
1/4 cup sugar
1/3 cup dark corn syrup
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/3 cup chopped nuts
2 tablespoons flaked coconut
1/4 cup chopped cherries

Mix together all ingredients for shell to create a soft dough. Set aside. Now mix ingredients for filling. Set aside. Press dough into small tart shells. Add mixture for filling to fill shells half way. Bake in 425-degree oven 10 minutes. These shells can be used with many fillings such as apple, lemon or even hot tuna fish.

Chinese almond cookies

2 3/4 cups flour
1 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1 cup lard
1 egg, slightly beaten
1 teaspoon almond extract

June Bohan (above) of June's Cake Decorating Supplies and Novelties, in Wayne, has been making treats for more than 20 years. ANP photo by Werner Stocum/staff photographer

1/3 cup whole, unblanched almonds
Egg yolk wash (optional):
1 egg yolk
2 teaspoons water

Sift flour, sugar, salt and baking soda together. Cut in lard until crumbly. Add slightly beaten egg and almond extract. Mix well. Shape dough in 1-inch balls and place on an ungreased cookie sheet 2 inches apart. Flatten balls with the bottom of a glass. Press 1 almond on each. Bake in a 325-degree oven for 15 to 18 minutes. Cool on a rack. Yields 4 dozen cookies.

For a yellow, glazed appearance on top of the cookies, brush flattened dough with egg yolk wash, then press on almond.

June's fruit cake

1 pound raisins
1/2 cup shortening
2 cups sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon cloves
1 teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup chopped nuts
1 cup cherries

Stew raisins in 2 cups water for 15 minutes. Add 1 cup cool water. Let cool; add shortening, sugar, cinnamon, cloves, nutmeg, salt, nuts and cherries. Mix well. Bake in well-greased loaf pan in a 350-degree oven 1 hour. Test with cake tester before removing from oven. Cool.

YUCATAN - LAND OF RUINS & RESORTS

The Yucatan Peninsula of Mexico that juts out of the east coast and separates the gulf of Mexico and the Caribbean is fast becoming the most popular tourist attraction in Mexico. Just a few years ago, only one flight linked the Yucatan with Florida; now there are several flights daily.

Remarkably, the resort area of Cancun didn't even exist a few years ago. It was created by the Mexican government on a beautiful stand of caribbean beach and now has more tourists than any other place in the Yucatan. There are many hotels in Cancun including Sheratons, Hyatts and a Club Med. What is it that brings visitors to the Yucatan? The beaches and the climate (which resemble Florida) are prime attractions during the winter. But beyond that, the Yucatan holds a special interest because of its past.

Here, the Mayans created a civilization that, in some respects, out-distanced that of Europe. Today, the ruins of their temples and palaces are among the most visited places in Mexico.

Three night packages to Cancun including air fare start as low as $299.

Title is at stake

Undefeated Robichaud places crown on block at Highland Park

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Coach Bob Yauck and the Bulldogs of Robichaud will pack up their football gear, wrap up their Suburban Athletic Conference crown and travel to Highland Park on Saturday and dare the Polar Bears to take their SAC title away from them.

The two powers clash at 2 p.m. to decide which one of them is worthy of the 1989 championship. Both have piled up untarnished 3-0 conference records, after losing their first two non-league starts of the season.

Yauck says he knows what his team has to do in order to retain the title: Stop all-state candidate, senior fullback Lynn Donaldson, and contain quarterback Gary Jones, especially when he elects to run the option.

That's it in a nutshell - but whoever has played the nutshell game knows that may be easier said than done.

"In my opinion," said Yauck, "this is the best Highland Park team I have seen in many years." That's also

To have a chance with them (Highland Park), we will have to stop their option game and also contain their all-state candidate, Lynn Donaldson.

— Bob Yauck
Robichaud coach

saying a lot, since Yauck has been coaching in these parts for almost two decades. "And to have a chance to win, we must stop their option game."

Robichaud has been erratic on the gridiron this season. Their offense, at times, can be scored on a 14-yarder that capped a midfield drive with 5:09 on the clock in the second quarter. Then, in the fourth period, after Rouge turned it into an 8-6 suspense thriller in the third quarter, Wheatley gave the Bulldogs an insurance TD when he returned a punt 60 yards for a TD. He also chipped in the two-point conversion for good measure.

Paul Brannon, an outside linebacker, rounded out the scoring for the Bulldogs when he nailed the Rouge kicker in the end zone for the two-point safety after the ball sailed over the punter's head.

Wheatley, who had two punt returns for TDs the week before against Oak Park, finished with 75 yards for 12 carries. However, he only completed one of seven passes.

Yauck had nothing but praise for his defense, which held the host to 28 total yards. Wheatley and middlelinebacker Gary Phillips, who had 10 solo tackles and one pass interception, earned high grades on defense. The front line, made up of Mike Nolan, Robert McClain, Carl Selman, and Ernie Baskins, proved tough.

Parkers roll past Vikings

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

With their sights set on the Suburban Athletic Conference football crown, Highland Park rolled past Inkster 40-6 to chalk up their third consecutive SAC victory to set up Saturday's title-bout with the defending champ, Robichaud.

The loss was the fifth for the Vikings, who are still looking for their first win of the 1989 campaign.

First-year coach Ron Gardner, disappointed but not discouraged, he said, has his best chance to snap the team's losing streak this week. Scheduled to come to town are the Red Raiders of Ecorse, a team that is also winless in four SAC starts. However, Ecorse did win its season opener this year.

"We were overpowered by Highland Park," Gardner said. "I don't believe in excuses or anything, but they (Highland Park) have an excellent team this year and Saturday's match up should be an interesting one."

Inkster quarterback Tyrone Orr (12) finds himself in a tight situation as a Highland Park defender lands a sack. Orr and the Vikings couldn't get their offensive game off the ground and fell to the Parkers 40-6. The Vikings may have only one realistic chance to break their five-game losing streak. They will meet co-SAC cellar-dweller, Ecorse, on Friday. The winner will move out of last place. ANP photo by Werner Slocum/staff photographer

Romulus, Inkster breeze to easy cage victories

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

If the rest of their conference season is like their games last week Inkster basketball coach Dwight Hotchkiss and his counterpart at Romulus High, Tim Cullen, probably won't complain.

While Hotchkiss and his Vikings were burying Ecorse 81-13, Cullen and his Eagles destroyed Ann Arbor Huron, 51-37.

However, Robichaud and Belleville, after five outings, are still in search of their first wins.

Holding the Red Raiders from Ecorse to only one point for the first two periods, Inkster had an overwhelming 34-1 lead in coasting to their first Suburban Athletic Conference victory in two starts. The Vikings are 5-2 on the year.

"It wasn't that we played so good," said Hotchkiss, "but Ecorse is a very young team and we just dominated them. I pulled my first team shortly before the end of the first period."

Shonetta Lamar sank 18 points and Tequan Abney chipped in 17 for the winners, who will travel to Willow Run tonight after meeting River Rouge Tuesday.

"We are scheduled to play two good SAC opponents this week," Hotchkiss said, "and we'll have a better view of what this team is made of after these games."

Sue Molenda hit on eight of her 15 points in the last period to lift Romulus to its first South Central Conference victory in two starts. The Eagles allowed the River Rats to come back after they had amassed a 15-point lead.

Romulus jumped to a 12-5 advantage after one period and enjoyed a 29-14 edge after the initial half, however, the River Rats rallied to a 16-9 margin to cut the Eagles lead to 38-30 for three periods.

"Our defense held them to only three baskets in the first half," Cullen said, "but then they came back on us. Molenda came up with several key rebounds and also sank two key free throws in the stretch that eventually proved to be crucial."

The Eagles also got 13 points from Kim Hopewell and 10 from Carmita Brown, who played less than a half because of personal fouls. She fouled out in the final stanza.

Romulus is at home tonight and will host Ann Arbor Pioneer at 7 p.m. They faced nonconference rival, Erie Mason, Tuesday.

In the meantime, Coach Mike Garland and the Tigers of Belleville are trying to put together a winning lineup that

After an opening season loss to Oak Park, Inkster last week managed to even up its SAC cage record to 1-1 at the expense of an inept Ecorse quintet, 81-13. Above, Inkster guard Tawana Green (22) has the position but has difficulty hauling in the rebound because of the outstretched hand of a taller defender. Belleville loses in overtime, 29-28

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Like the 'Trojan Horse' in Greek mythology, Monroe proved to be as deceptive. Loser of its first three games, the Trojans of Monroe suddenly came alive and carved out a 29-28 overtime victory over Coach Sam Villa's Tigers Friday night.

Villa had warned that Monroe would be tough, and he proved right. However, it was no consolation to the Tiger coach as his club's record dipped to 2-2 in the Wolverine 'A' Conference.

"We made our mistakes and paid for them," Villa noted. "There were ample opportunities to win this game. We blew the lead a couple of times. It's heartbreaking when you know that you can and should win, and you don't."

In fact, after Monroe scored and tied the game at 21-all in regulation time, Belleville was first awarded possession of the ball in the extra period and wasted little time getting on the scoreboard. On the third play, running back Chris Zaccaria bolted off tackle and into the Monroe end zone from the one to break the deadlock, 27-21. Then, sure-footed Todd Yocum connected on his fourth extra point of the evening, making it 28-21.

Now it was up to the Belleville defense to hold the lead. It failed.

Monroe came right back and not only scored the TD (from the five) but also made good on its two-point conversion, giving them the point that made the difference.

The Tigers, who have never beaten Monroe on the gridiron, seemed to have overcome their jinx as they rallied for two TDs in the second quarter and took a 14-6 lead at the halfway point. Quarterback Jeremy Ison teamed with Ron Hunter on an eight-yard touchdown pass early in the second quarter that tied the game at six-all. Yocum's first PAT gave the visitors the lead, Zaccaria set up that first score with a stunning 50-yard run, pulled off after a screen pass from Ison.

Belleville widened the margin to 14-6 before the intermission when strong safety Chris Withers intercepted a pass and returned it 30 yards for a touchdown.

Zaccaria again provided the heroics, this time in the fourth quarter. On a pitch from Ison, the junior halfback scampered 85 yards for a touchdown that tied the score at 21-all.

"We made some mental mistakes that cost us 75 yards in penalties which set up their second TD," Villa said. "Those really hurt. Like I said, we knew that this team was not the same Monroe team that started the season. They've greatly improved."

Villa also cautioned that his next opponent - Southgate Anderson, a 51-0 loser to Fordson last week, "can also be tough."

"They (Southgate) will play with intensity against us. You can be assured of that," Villa said. "They beat Wyandotte and Wyandotte beat Wyandotte."

Romulus hosts Huron next for homecoming

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Completely dominated by title-bound Ypsilanti Friday night, Coach Dan Henry and his Eagles of Romulus High will regroup and prepare for Ann Arbor Huron.

The River Rats, the South Central Conference coaches' choice to win the SSC football championship this season, are Romulus' guests for homecoming.

Ypsi was the only team to dominate us this year," Henry said. "We were in all of our other games - but that wasn't the case against Ypsi. Looking at the film, our kids looked like they were scared to play them. That's not ever going to happen to another team that I field. We're going to have players out there who are not afraid to hit or to be hit." Henry believes that the Huron game "will be won Monday through Thursday."

Henry said that Huron, upset by Adrian last week, will be fired up this week.

"I am going to appeal to our kids - this is homecoming, and I want and am going to get the best out of them."

One of the problems against Ypsi was that Romulus' defense couldn't stop Ypsi's junior running back Wardell Davis, who ran wild against them. Davis rushed for 233 yards and four touchdowns after being called upon 36 times to carry the ball. He scored on runs of one and three, 12 and 63 to put the game on ice for the Braves.

Ypsi built up a 16-0 lead before the Eagles got on the scoreboard in the third quarter with a 14-yard pass from quarterback Chris Jones to Virgil Davis. The Jones-to-Davis duo also set up the Eagles' only score with a superb 60-yard toss.

Realizing that they couldn't run against the stronger and physical Ypsi team, Henry designed an aerial assault on the Eagles' secondary that climaxed at times. Jones managed to cash in 12 of his 26 passes for 140 yards and one touchdown. Running back Eben Smith, who had 13 attempts, picked up 31 yards rushing.

Ypsi piled up 380 yards and carded 19 first downs to Romulus' 9 first downs and 217 total yards.

With its second straight SCC victory, Ypsi now has sole possession of first place in the conference, while Adrian is second (2-1), followed by Ann Arbor Pioneer, Romulus and Huron which have yet to win a conference game this season.

dotte defeated Wayne, so don't think they are going to roll over and die for us."

Villa said that the defense, which turned in an erratic performance at Monroe, must do a complete turnaround if the Tigers are to post their third conference win.

Also, the Tigers' backfield must be more productive. Belleville tallied 62 yards from Zaccaria's 15 rushes, but the next leader was John Perry, who picked up 24 yards on 10 tries. In the meantime, Ison found receivers for four of his 12 passes for 146 yards.

In other conference games, Wayne Memorial tightened its grip on second place (3-1, 4-1) with a 28-21 victory over Lincoln Park; Wyandotte turned back Trenton, 14-7; while Fordson was a 51-0 win over Southgate Anderson.

Cagers

has been riddled with defections due to the 'Pay to Play' policy. The Tigers have lost some key personnel because players are asked to pay $250 to defray the costs of athletic programs due to a lack of school funds. The school district is asking for a tax increase in November.

Belleville dropped its third straight Wolverine 'A' Conference decision 53-23 to Monroe despite the heroics of Rachele Melnyk, who scored 10 points.

"We just don't have the guards this year and we miss Cathy Murphy and Christie Garrett," Garland said.

Murphy and Garrett were all-area performers for the Tigers a year ago.

Garland's starting lineup includes Dawn Rochowiak, JoAnn Clark, Jennifer Chatzka and Stephanie Gubaci, who could be an outstanding team in time, according to the Tiger coach.

Bridesmaids again
Huron is runner-up at Jefferson Invitational

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

When Grosse Ile is around, New Boston Huron High girls apparently are doomed to be "bridesmaids".

For the second straight week, Coach Jim Okler and the Chiefs finished second to the Islanders in an invitational cross country invitational. This time they trailed Grosse Ile in the final standings of the Monroe Jefferson Invitational.

The Islanders piled up 34 points, and also boasted the invitational's individual champion in Janne Barstow. Huron was second in the field of nine teams with 41 points, followed by Erie-Mason, which had 56.

In the match up between Huron's premier runner Lindsay Wendel and Barstow, Wendel lost the gold medal.

"Lindsay had the lead for the first three-quarters of a mile, then Janne made a move and Lindsay let her get away," Okler explained. "The rematch will be interesting."

Wendell secured the silver with a 21:26 effort. Her teammates who finished with medals included: Ann Welch (5th - 22:21); Ann Holland (7th - 22:36); and Ann Dulecki (9th - 22:44). Laura Holland just missed receiving a medal for the Chiefs when she turned up in 21st place with a 24:05 performance. (The first 20 finishers were awarded medals).

The Chiefs will have an opportunity to test title-hopeful Grosse Ile in a head-on clash today. The two meet on the Islanders' ground.

Earlier last week, the Chiefs routed Flat Rock 18-40 as Wendel led the pack with a (21:52).

Pirates steal Huron homecoming

It was New Boston Huron's homecoming Friday night, but the Pirates from Riverview stole the show.

Striking early and decisively, the conference co-leaders wrapped up their third league victory at the expense of Coach Greg Hammond's Chiefs, 30-8, to spoil Huron's homecoming festivities.

The victory kept Riverview atop of the conference standings. However, the Pirates share the top billing with Monroe Catholic Central, Grosse Ile and Monroe Jefferson. The four teams have 3-1 records.

The loss dipped the Chiefs' record to 0-4 on the conference year and 1-4 overall.

The Chiefs will travel to Flat

Rock Friday night in hopes of ending their losing streak. Flat Rock is coming off of a 34-10 setback inflicted at the hands of the Islanders of Grosse Ile.

Huron's defense had more than its share of problems Friday night in stopping the Pirates' potent offense. Sparked by senior halfback Kevin Jenkins, who rushed for 113 yards and one touchdown, the Pirates raced to a 22-0 lead before the Chiefs got on the scoreboard.

The Chiefs eluded the shutout when junior quarterback Dave Taylor combined with Matt Hamilton on a 10-yard touchdown pass. They cashed in running back Pete Hill's off-tackle slant for the two-point conversion.

Freshman first at Wayne Invitational

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

A 15-year-old Belleville High freshman turned in a superlative effort Saturday to capture the prestigious Wayne Memorial Invitational Cross Country championship.

Anne Gray, who comes from a family of runners and joggers, and making her debut at the Wayne meet, covered the 5-kilometer distance in the winning time of 21:08.

"Anne is one of the most promising young distance runners on the high school scene today," said Belleville coach Sam Vicchy. "She comes from a family of athletes, who enjoy running."

Gray's performance staked the Tigers to a fourth place over-all finish. Belleville, with 107 points, finished behind invitational winner Livonia Stevenson (53), Trenton (57) and Livonia Franklin (61).

Other Belleville runners who figured in the scoring included: Carmelita Martell, 15th (22:40); Tara Jared, 27th (24:19); Amy Fisher, 31st (24:47); and Fay Bodenmiller, 33rd (26:07).

In the meantime, Belleville also finished third in the boys division to Stevenson (32), and Dearborn Heights Crestwood (62).

Belleville's Todd Adams was clocked in the third best overall time of 17:26. The Tigers also finished eighth with Jason Kidwell (17:42); 17th with Peter LaFramboise (18:20), while Paul LaFramboise and Paulo Caba were 22nd and 23rd, respectively.

Vicchy, in his first year as head coach, has a 2-1 overall record. The Tigers have defeated Romulus and Ypsilanti Lincoln, while losing their Wolverine 'A' Conference opener. The boys lost to the Bruins, 25-30, while the girls fell 24-31.

Belleville was back on the conference trail Tuesday night. They were involved in a triangular with Southgate Anderson and Fordson, and they will return to action on Saturday when they participate in the Livonia Franklin Invitational.

Tigers host swim invitational

A field of six teams, including the host, Belleville High, will compete in the 1989 Tiger Swimming & Diving Invitational which will be staged Saturday beginning at 9:30 a.m. at Belleville.

"We have some excellent swimmers coming here this year," said Greg Cooper, Belleville coach, "and I look for the defending champ to be tough again."

Plymouth Salem is the defending champ. The field will also include Dearborn Fordson, Westland John Glenn, Livonia Franklin and Churchill.

YOU CAN'T HAVE TOO MANY FRIENDS ADOPT - A - PET

The animals pictured on this page, and countless others, are waiting for you to take them home. A pet will give you love, trust, loyalty and affection, and all that is required in return is a little food, water and a warm place to sleep. That seems a small price to pay for the satisfaction of a wagging tail or a happy purr whenever you come home. When you go into your local animal shelter, open your heart and home to one of these creatures, the rewards are well worth it!
